

SOCIETY FOR VETERINARY EPIDEMIOLOGY AND PREVENTIVE MEDICINE

<http://www.svepm.org.uk>

SVEPM PROPOSAL FORM FOR ORGANIZING A PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP

Please complete the expandable table below and return by email by August 31st 2019 to the SVEPM Honorary Secretary, Philip Robinson at secretary@svepm.org.uk.

Title of the Workshop	Participatory epidemiology in veterinary medicine – powerful methods to include social aspects into research
Workshop facilitators Please provide name, affiliation and email address Underline the name of the contact person One facilitator will receive free registration to the SVEPM annual meeting	Katja Schulz Kerli Mõtus Friedrich-Loeffler-Institut Estonian University of Life Federal Research Institute for Sciences Animal Health Institute of Veterinary Institute of Epidemiology Medicine and Animal Sciences Südufer 10 Kreuzwaldi 62 17493 Greifswald, Insel Riems 51014 Tartu Germany Estonia
Learning objectives and expected outcomes	The aim of the workshop is to introduce the concept of participatory epidemiology and give an understanding of the use and the implementation of participatory methods in veterinary sciences. The participants will become familiar with the power and the advantages of participatory methods and will learn about its limitations and difficulties. The participants will get some inspirations how to include participatory epidemiology in their future research.
Content and structure	Provide a fundamental understanding of the principles of participatory epidemiology. Presentation of methods and tools of participatory epidemiology that can be used for different research purposes. Practical training and group work. Wrap-up.
Materials provided by the facilitators	All material needed will be provided by the facilitators, including scripts and electronic documents.
Maximum number of participants	15
Assumed knowledge of participants	No special previous knowledge required.
Required meeting room set-up and equipment, including number of power points (for laptops)	One meeting room with the possibility to accommodate three working groups, each with a table. A flipchart and flipchart paper + appropriate coloured pencils would be necessary. No laptops necessary.